

OCRDocs

Looking for a light-weight but flexible document scanning solution?

This is you: a hardworking professional who has no time to manually process purchasing and sales documents, wanting to streamline and optimize the document flow of your organization, but the solutions available for this problem are simply too big, complicated and expensive.

OCRDocs tries to solve this problem with a light-weight yet flexible document scanning solution. We understand the need for a plug-and-play solution for small to medium sized companies, where no training or an expensive or time-consuming setup is required. While we were at it, we also removed the need for expensive subscriptions or packages that never quite suited your organization.
